FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR No. 1

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY DECEMBER 11, 1931

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—Three laws of Ohio, containing Legislative Acts, excepting appropriation acts and joint resolutions, passed and adopted by the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, held in the Capitol January 5 to July 1, 1931, are being distributed by Secretary of State, Clarence J. Brown. The volume also contains Times for Holding the Courts of Appeals and Courts of Common Pleas in the state for the current year.

An early reception is being planned for the annual visitation of Santa Claus in the Capital City this year. The downtown business district is being profusely decorated and the State House Park will be headquarters for the holiday guest when he arrives in this section of the state. As usual, gifts of oranges, popcorn and sweets will be distributed to the children Christmas week.

Director H. G. Southard, M. D., of the State Department of Health, broadcasting through the Ohio Health News, states there is no doubt that more people suffer from common colds each year than from any other ailment, and that there is no one disease that causes more loss of time among all ages, classes and races. Director Southard states that no one can say just when or where a cold will stop and in the infant and aged often means pneumonia and death. Parents should keep their children away from persons with colds and away from social gatherings and crowded places where there may be, and usually are, people with colds. With adults several things may be blamed for colds, incorrect living habits, personal carelessness, obstruction of the air passages, all of which may be avoided with care and exercising precaution.

Thomas E. Bateman, the efficient and capable clerk of the Ohio Senate, recently spent a day in the county where he first saw the light of day, Pike, and with several friends, enjoyed a hunt in the wilds adjacent to Pikeston. Clark Bateman, noted for his electrical capacity, soon put down several hours later with a bag of game which was the envy of all who examined it, consisting of five young rabbits, two ring-necked pheasants and a half dozen Hungarian partridges, the limit allowed by law. He received hearty congratulations from numerous friends for the skill which he exhibited while afield.

Articles of Incorporation have been issued to the Association against the State Prohibition Amendment, the certificate having been applied for by a number of well known Cleveland citizens, including State Senator Joseph N. Ackerman, former state senator L. G. Collier, now treasurer of Cuyahoga County, former Federal Judge Wm. L. Day, Harry McLaughlin, President of the Ohio Federation of Labor, Martin A. McCormick, former assistant chief of the Cleveland Police, and others. Repeal of the prohibition amendment to the Ohio constitution adopted in 1918, at the May primary election next year is the ultimate object of the new incorporation.

Governor George White is back on the job at the Capitol after having been confined to the executive mansion for the past five weeks as the result of an injury to his shoulder when his automobile skidded on a slippery road in Wood county. The executive offices are again crowded with office seekers and others desiring executive favors and this activity will continue until long after the holidays.

Community Club Discusses Credit

At a meeting of the Community Club Wednesday evening two representatives of the Xenia Credit Rating Bureau, appeared before the club to discuss the credit rating plan and interest local business men in adopting this service. The plan was widely discussed but no definite action was taken.

The club authorized the secretary to enter a complaint of the condition of the Main street crossing at the railroad. Council had this matter up some time ago but the company has so far not made repairs. A copy of the letter will also go to the State Highway Department.

The Hallows' committee report showed a profit of about $20 in addition to several gifts. From the receipts electric cable for ornamental street lighting was paid for that will be the property of the club. The bad weather that night limited the size of the crowd. The net amount was turned over to the school cafeteria fund to feed poor children.

COURT NEWS

MALOTTES SETTLE CASE

Alimony suit brought by Lula M. Malotte against A. B. Malotte, proprietor of a confectionery, filling station, rooming and lodging house in Osborn, shortly after her husband's arrest as a suspect in the robbery of the Charles Monnett home, near Yellow Springs, November 20, has been settled and dismissed in Common Pleas Court.

Malotte and his wife have reached an agreement whereby all his funds on deposit in the First National Bank in Osborn will be transferred to Mrs. Malotte, and she in turn will pay her attorney fee and costs of the court case, according to an entry on file. Upon consummation of the settlement, a temporary injunction heretofore allowed the wife, will be dissolved, the court ruled.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Divorce, on grounds of extreme cruelty and failure to provide, is asked in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Florence Warren against Aaron Warren, 135 Center Street. They were married April 10, 1929. No children were born of the union. The plaintiff asks restoration to her maiden name.

PARTITION ASKED

Partition of property is the object of a suit brought in Common Pleas Court by the Peoples Building and Savings Co. through Attorney C. W. Whitmer against Wilson Davis, Carl Davis, Charles Davis, Anna Davis and Miles E. Davis.

WINS JUDGMENT

The Osborn Cooperative Grain Co. has been awarded a judgment amounting to $129.84 against William Perry in Common Pleas Court.

EXTENSION GRANTED

On application of Mary F. Gross and Walter C. Gross, as joint administrators of the estate of Frank M. Gross, deceased, time of settlement of the estate has been extended to December 1, 1932, with authority of Probate Court. The court decided the estate cannot be settled prior to the advanced date without a substantial loss.

Ralph O. Spahr has been appointed administrator of the estate of Emily Holmes, deceased, with bond of $1,200 in Probate Court. Because the value of the entire estate is so small, the usual appraisal will be dispensed with, the court ruled.

Elnora P. Gee has been named administratrix of the estate of Rilda I. Phelps, late of Xenia, with $1,500 bond. Appointment of Paul A. Fuller as administrator of the estate of Edgar Wilson, late of Xenia township, with bond of $1,000, has been made.

NAME EXECUTORS

Stanley Chaffin has been appointed executor of the estate of Flora Alice McClain, late of Ross township, and has posted bond of $1,000 in Probate Court. W. L. Clemans, O. A. Dolbins and Frank Shigley were named appraisers.

Kyle Dunkel and R. E. Dunkel have been named co-executors of the estate of Mary S. Dunkel, late of Xenia, without bond. The court named William A. Miller, Ernest Beatty and the Rev. H. B. McElreath as appraisers.

GRANT FRANCHISE

County Commissioners, with the written consent of abutting land owners, have granted The Dayton Power and Light Co. a twenty-five-year franchise for construction and maintenance of a pole line for transmission of electricity along the Yellow Springs Road between New Germany and the Zimmerman-Fairfield Road in Beaver Creek and Bath townships.

VALUE ESTATES

Estate of Ella Miller, deceased, has a gross value of $1,628, composed exclusively of personal property, according to an estimate filed in Probate Court. Debts total $484 and the cost of administration is $181, leaving a net value of $963.

Gross value of $2,257.50 is placed on the estate of John P. Wagner, deceased. The estate is without net value because debts and the cost of administration exactly equal the gross valuation.

The President's Message

TAX COLLECTION STARTS DEC. 20

The Greene County Treasurer's office has been practically turned into a tax information bureau the last few weeks due to unfamiliarity of the public with the new tax laws according to County Treasurer H. M. Van Pelt.

So many questions have poured in to the treasurer's office from taxpayers that a continual procession of questioners coming and going is now the rule at that office. Seeking to be of service to these taxpayers without compelling a trip to the office, Van Pelt has set down the answers to the questions most frequently asked:

"Due to reorganization and the laws the tax collection will not begin until after December 20 and at that time only taxes on real estate, delinquent personal and special taxes will be accepted."

"Taxes on real estate must be paid in the following manner: All for the current December, (1931) and 1-5 of the delinquent tax at the same time. For example: If the December taxes for 1931 should amount to $100 and there was $100 in delinquent taxes remaining to be paid on the property, the smallest amount of payment that could be accepted would be $120.00."

"Special taxes must be paid in the same manner as real estate. 'The amount of personal property tax (year 1931) will not be made until February 15 and cannot be accepted until that time.'"

Governor White Names Rep. R. D. Williamson

Representative R. D. Williamson, who has served for thirty years on the State Board of Agriculture, being appointed at different times by both Republican and Democratic governors, has again been named for that post by Governor White. He goes on the board as a Republican while Mrs. W. J. Postinus, Canton, has been named as a Democratic member. Both terms are for five years each. Mr. Williamson has had charge of the cattle department and exhibit at the fair for 21 years. The cattle show this last summer is said to have been the largest ever held in this country. It is the largest stock exhibit at the state fair and has been built up much through the efforts of Mr. Williamson, who has a wide personal acquaintance with cattle breeders in the United States.

RICHARD SPARROW DEAD

HOLLY TREE IN BLOOM

SOUTH CHARLESTON.—One of the rarest sights in this section of Ohio is the American holly tree in the front yard of the home of Wheeler Stewart, who resides west of here. The tree is about 15 feet tall and its bright green leaves and brighter red berries remind one of the Christmas season.

Madam Buckley Entertains College and High School

Madam Ellen Buckley charmingly entertained the faculty, students, and friends of the college and high school in the latter's auditorium last Tuesday morning. After she had been introduced by Dr. McChesney, Miss Buckley, accompanied by Miss Theda Downing of Xenia, presented a program of two parts, each of which was well received. The high school wishes to thank Dr. McChesney and the choir of the First Methodist Church at Xenia for giving us the opportunity of hearing a singer of such great renown.

Introducing Lizzy, Dizzy, Mike and Ike

The Vocational Biology Class invites you to see Lizzy, Dizzy, Mike, and Ike, the four white rats which are being used in an experiment to show the effect of food on the growth and upkeep of the body.

Science has found that the digestive system of white rats is very similar to that of a human being. Thus by feeding the rats special diets, one can see the effect of these diets on the human body.

The basic diet, consisting of bread, meat, and potatoes and known as the typical American diet, is being given to Lizzy. The same diet plus candy is eaten by Dizzy, while Mike has the basic diet plus coffee, and Ike eats the basic foods plus vegetables and milk.

This project will be carried on for some time and it is hoped you will have an opportunity to see how well each rat thrives on its diet.

SCHOOL TAX EXPLAINED BY COUNTY AUDITOR

County Auditor, James J. Carlett, has recently informed the school boards of Miami Township and Cedarville Township school districts that the state equalization school levy carried in these districts at the November election, will not be extended on the tax duplicate for the December collection of taxes. The entire amount of this levy will be extended on the tax duplicate for the June collection.

Immediately after it was learned that the school levy in these two districts had been approved, the County Auditor made an application to the Tax Commission of Ohio for the levy to be used in extending these levies upon the tax duplicate. The legislation provided that it was the duty of the Tax Commission of Ohio to determine this rate, which will be based on the average levy voted for the current expenses of schools outside of the fifteen mill limitation by all school districts throughout the State of Ohio, which do not participate in the equalization fund. The Tax Commission informed the County Auditor that they were proceeding to determine this rate but that it would take some time as all rates from the eighty-eight counties of Ohio had not been submitted to the Tax Commission at that time. In the meantime, however, they requested an opinion from the Attorney General of Ohio as to whether or not this levy could be applied on the December collection of taxes. The Attorney General ruled that in as much as one of the Sections of the General Code, that govern participation in the state equalization school fund, provides that the County Auditor shall extend the levy on the tax list after the next succeeding February settlement, it could not legally be extended on the December collection of taxes.

As over two hundred school districts throughout the state of Ohio were affected adversely by this decision, pressure was brought to bear upon the State Department of Education to attempt to secure a more favorable interpretation of the law. Suits were threatened by numerous boards to hold up any suit which had received the final opinion from the Attorney General. The director of education Professor B. O. Skinner, requested an opinion from the Attorney General as to whether or not the state equalization school levy could be extended on the December collection of taxes, as he stated that the first opinion given had not been called for his official attention. After several weeks time the Attorney General submitted the identical opinion to the State Department of Education part of which is quoted herewith: "The levy so authorized, however, must be made in accordance with Section 5925-18b, General Code, which provides in clear and unequivocal language that such levy shall be extended on the tax list for collection after the next February settlement." Clearly, therefore, the levy so authorized can not be collected until the next tax collection period after the February settlement in 1932."

In the meantime the County Auditor did not extend any taxes on the duplicate in Miami and Cedarville Townships hoping that a more favorable opinion could be obtained or that the courts might be called upon to interpret these laws. Since a favorable interpretation of the law has not been obtained the County Auditor is proceeding to extend the taxes in Miami and Cedarville Townships without the fifteen mill limitation in Miami Township and the two mill levy in Cedarville Township and without the state equalization levy. This has been necessary as the school levies for current expenses outside of the fifteen mill limitation of taxes and the State Tax Commission has refused to certify the rate for state equalization levy. These being the facts in the case no school levy outside of the fifteen mill limitation for current operating expenses will be included in the tax rates for the December collection of taxes in these districts. However, the entire equalization school levy between two and three mills will be included in the June collection of taxes.

The rate for Cedarville Township in the December collection will be $15.00 and in the June collection it will be between $17.00 and $18.00. Likewise, the rate in Cedarville Village in December will be $18.00 and in June between $20.00 and $21.00. The rate in Miami Township for December will be $17.40 and in June between $19.40 and $20.40. Yellow Springs Village will have a tax rate in December of $21.30 and in June a rate between $23.30 and $24.30.

SUITS NEITHER SCHOOLS OR TAXPAYERS

The recent decision of Attorney General Bettman that forces the collection of a large part of the school tax next June instead of dividing it in December and June, as other taxes are paid, and has been the rule for half a century or more, will bring heaps of criticism on the state monarch that has assumed the role of legislature and court in sustaining or overturning legislation. More than 200 school districts in Ohio, including Cedarville and Miami townships in this county are affected. No county official, local, or county school official can be criticized for the situation has been taken out of their hands by a Cincinnati gang politician serving as attorney general. The taxpayer should grin and bear his load and then remember what to do at the first election when the name of Bettman appears on the ballot.

We have been informed that a Xenia firm was bidder on two buildings at the O. S. & S. O. Home, and lowest on the two jobs, and under all rules of common sense and good business would have been given the contract, just as an individual would do. But the Attorney General ruled against it so the state will pay two contractors more than what one contractor would get. As a result an out-of-the-state contractor gets the work. That's what Ohio labor and Ohio material people get from the Cincinnati gang politicians. The Ohio state office building, was another sample of rottenness, and broken promises to Ohio labor and material interests.

Bettman recently ruled that counties must pay for publication of notice for referendum changes to the constitution, that heretofore has been paid by the state for a century. We are in a period of Bettman rule, open opponent of the primary; prohibition, or permitting home rule in government.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S MESSAGE

President Hoover has transmitted his message to the new Congress and a careful reading of it gives the nation serious thought of our financial position, not abroad but at home. The message may be pleasing to some but it is certain to create much unfavorable comment and give a divided congress on political lines, the opportunity of long debate.

Balancing the budget is a favorite expression with national as well as state politicians. Hoover has urged higher taxes on many commodities such as we had back in 1924 to offset a deficit that exists and one anticipated until 1933 that will reach more than four billion dollars, many, many more times the cost of the Civil War. The unfortunate thing is that the President did not apply the same rule, the corporation or the private individual must do, and balance the budget by reducing operating expenses.

Ripping into the pockets of the taxpayers under present business conditions is bound to create some feeling, as necessary as it may be under the Hoover plan. He has advocated higher income taxes, stamp taxes, for checks and drafts, telephone and telegraph message, taxes on automobiles, radios, accessories, cigarettes, deeds, and many other everyday articles. In addition he urges a postal increase on letters outboard from two to three cents. Also higher rates on parcel post, registered and insured mail.

What the President did not recommend was a reduction in the cost of government, other than the army and navy. He had nothing to say against the score or more of costly commissions. The extravagant building program the administration is engaged in in Washington. The unnecessary million dollar post office buildings now planned for construction. Neither did he recommend a reduction of the $10,000 salaries for congressmen and $12,000 salaries for senators, which were increased while we were in the war-time prosperity.

The presidential message had nothing to say on prohibition, which is admitted to be one of the most important issues not only before congress, but next year in the campaign. As for tariff changes, the President sees no cause for additional legislation, yet more than thirty nations have closed their markets to American made goods, as a result of the present tariff law.

The echo of the efforts of the new congress as to forcing foreign countries to pay their war debts, rather than higher taxes for American citizens, is bound to be heard in the next presidential campaign.

 COLUMBUS, OHIO

Men voters can sit back and chuckle to themselves as to the action of some women in politics. Women have adopted many of the traits of men, including some of our clothing, and now can stage a first class political convention. There is in the state what is known as the Women's Republican Club, with headquarters in Columbus.

Like real men folks some of the ladies aspire to be boss, never relinquish an office after a long service and rule in a manner fitting a foreign king in the days kings were popular. Mrs. Viola Romans, well known Republican legislator from Franklin county, and prominent in State W. C. T. U. affairs, has been president of the organization, and as election time for the club approached, let her aspirations be known that she desired the place once more. Another member, Mrs. Valentine was also a candidate. The meeting of the club was in a prominent Columbus hotel. It was opened by singing "America" and repeating the Lord's Prayer, after which hostilities began just such as have been experienced by men folks back in the days of George B. Cox and other real political bosses.

Under the rules the secretary of the club prepared the ballots but it seems Mrs. Romans had a faint idea something was wrong, so she prepared a set of ballots and had them printed. The minutes were approved at the meeting and all bills paid except one for the Roman ballots. This was the first test of lineup on a vote and Mrs. Roman's lost by a vote of 93 to 84. One verbal clash after another took place. Mrs. Romans in a defiant manner closed the meeting with the announcement that the election was irregular and consequently all officials would hold over. When question as to her authority, stated that under parliamentary law, when a riot, fire, etc., occurs, the chairman has power to adjourn a meeting. The politicians of the male persuasion that have had experience in political conventions, know just about what took place among the Republican Club women at the recent meeting.

Secretary of State Clarence Brown, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is probably the only man in the state who holds a post-humous certificate as a graduate from a law department of a university, although he has never practiced that profession. When he was a student at the University of Virginia, he became seriously ill just before the final examinations. When members of the faculty of the university attempted to call the home of Brown's parents over long distance telephone, they did not succeed, and concluded that the student had died. Later they mailed the posthumous degree to his parents. After recovering from illness Mr. Brown became interested in newspaper work, and never followed the practice of law. He has served as lieutenant governor and is now on his third term as secretary of state.

Although the new automobile license tags are now on sale there is no great rush by owners to advance the price for the tags at this early date. The old tags are good until January 1, and the new ones can be used after December 10th. Tags this year cost a bit more than in former years, the lowest priced tag being $7, for cars in the Ford and Chevrolet class. The highest priced tag is $25. Truck owners will find the scale of prices much higher than the old law. Automobile owners while paying more for license tags will not have to pay any personal property tax. The same applies for trucks. The series for automobiles being issued here starts with D29,551.

Sometimes a gift comes high regardless of the generosity of the donor. An interesting story from Dayton in connection with the recent failure of the Union Trust Company, is the gift of 50 shares of the bank stock to one of the leading churches in that city. The donor had been a lifetime member and of course never expected such a thing as failure to be attached to the name of that institution. The transfer of the stock to the church was made just a few days before the bank was closed. Last week the church was mailed a notice along with the 770 other bank stockholders of a hundred per cent assessment to be paid on or by a certain date. Under the law the church property is good for the assessment, but of course the church officials will pay the bill and forget the debt.

The sudden announcement of Congressman Charles Brand that he will not be a candidate again in this district has filled the air with political stories of various kinds. There are two or three avowed candidates now with the names of others as good prospects for the nomination next May. The latest is that friend of Howard L. Cheney, Franklin manufacturer, would like to see him cast his hat in the ring. He is a South Charleston boy and well known in that section Mr. Cheney has not indicated just what he would do.

What prompted Brand to give up another chance as congressman has not been made clear to politicians.

Some say that he did not want to be placed in a position where he would have to support President Hoover. Another is that he did not think next year was to be a good one for Republican candidates. Another was that in as much as he had been a strong supporter of much of the farm legislation, that has proven a fizzle and loaded the government with a big financial loss, he could not face his farmer friends and expect to get their support. He would no doubt suffer also as a result of the breaking up of the old Daugherty-Pemberton political machine in the district.

Indiana has taken a rap at Ohio baked bread and has put a ban on the sale of it in that state. The Indiana authorities say that Ohio bread does not measure up to the standard in weight and is being sold under a misrepresentation. Such news will be interesting to Ohio citizens also. The Wall Street bankers that own most of the big bakeries in Ohio no doubt are cheating Ohio bread consumers just a little, but it remained for Indiana to expose the trick and keep Ohio baked bread out of that state. There is probably no food on the market to day that has as much substitute in it as bread and cake made by the big bakeries that peddle it over the state. It is an admitted fact that it costs more to deliver the bread than it does to make it. Science and modern machinery enables such firms to use all kinds of cheap substitutes that the small home owned baker can not use. It is claimed that many of the cakes that the big bakeries sell for ten and fifteen cents do not cost even five cents to make and bake. Science has found away to develop a product that has an appealing taste even though it might be all but worthless as a food value.

SANTA CLAUS SPEAKING

—By William Henschel
in Missouri Farmer

GOOD evening, Children! Through the "mike" I'll just say this before I hike: No monkey-business goes tonight—Run off to bed, turn out the lights. Don't snoop around or try to see What chance you have detecting me.

I'm pretty slick at ketching kids Who only half-way close their lids; Why, I don't even hesitate Where smarmy children stay up late! Don't pull that drink-of-water stuff—You can't fool me—that's just a bluff!

Best way to do—I've always found— In all my years of going 'round, Is just play square with Santa Claus, For he has certain rules and laws Which make it necessary—Yes, That you cut out your snooping!

How sweet it is when children do The things old Santa asks them to, They never have a sigh or tear If they believe in him each year. Say, sometimes, children who are good Get more than what they thought they would!

D. A. R. MEETING

The December meeting of the Cedar Cliff Chapter of the D. A. R. was a very interesting meeting with Mrs. Harry Hammon and Mrs. Frank Hastings as hostesses in the country home of Mrs. Hammon.
 At 2:30 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the Regent Mrs. Frank Creswell and opened with the Ritualistic Service followed by the Chapter Salute to the Flag. The roll was answered by thirty members present and a number of interesting letters from over absent members which we enjoyed hearing from.
 After reading of the minutes the business of the Chapter was in order. Plans are being made for the play to be put on in February.
 Mrs. John S. Heaume of Springfield State Secretary and Mrs. Mary Dean Wilson, Regent of Lagonda Chapter, Springfield, were the guests of honor.
 Mrs. Heaume in a very interesting and pleasing manner gave the address of the afternoon. "Glass, Silver and China of the Colonial time," which was her subject was enjoyed very much.
 Mrs. Wilson who so many of us know and enjoy having with us made a brief talk.
 During the social hour delicious refreshments was served by the hostesses.

Bell Telephone Co. Installs New Lines

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company has installed additional service lines between Xenia and Cedarville that has added much to the service of patrons in each place. The time for long waits for a line has probably been eliminated but the new service does not mean that subscribers can have a line and visit for an unusual length of time. Telephones are not for that purpose.

DOG TAGS ON SALE AT RICHARDS STORE

Announcement appears in this issue as to the sale of dog tags, as authorized by law. The sale will close on January 30 and after that date a tag will cost $1 additional. Locally tags can be secured of A. E. Richards. The funds from such license go to paying the loss on sheep killed or injured by dogs. The license collected last year did not cover the value of animals killed or wounded. After January 30th a drive will be put on by the county dog warden to collect all dogs that have no tags.

PRES. MCGHESNEY CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Dr. W. R. McGhesney, president of Cedarville College, announced Thursday that he would be a candidate for State Representative at the Republican primary next May.
 Dr. McGhesney is now entering on his sixteenth year as president of Cedarville College, having previously been dean and professor of Latin and Greek as well as instructor in other studies. He came to Cedarville 36 years ago, upon the founding of Cedarville College, and has given a third of a century of his life to educational work. He has been urged by many friends from all sections of the county, the past two or more years to become a candidate, but just a few days ago yielded to this demand.
 He is well known in every township and has spoken at various times from most every pulpit, platform, and before every social and civic organization in the county. His ability as a scholar, orator, educator and preacher, is outstanding, and should place Greene county in the front rank of the next General Assembly, contingent upon his nomination and election. Nomination in Greene county has been equivalent to election in the past.
 For some time there have been reports that Representative R. D. Williamson, would retire but no public statement has ever been issued to that effect. Dr. McGhesney's announcement is the first to be made. Rep. Williamson has served four terms in the House and previously had served six terms as county commissioner. In all his public career he has never suffered defeat and he enjoys a record for public service that few if any in the county have ever had.

School House Safe Robbed Friday

The safe in the office of the superintendent in the school building was broken into late Friday night by expert cracksmen and about $70 in money and $55 in checks taken. It represented money from the sale of books and cafeteria. Ordinarily there is no money kept in the safe but Supt. H. C. Furst, being unusually busy Friday afternoon, failed to deposit it in the bank.
 The combination was knocked off and the safe entered in that way. The door was sent to Springfield for repair and it is said that the firm now has ten safe doors from school safes on hand for repairs. A number of school buildings have been robbed the past few weeks.
 Supt. Furst says there will be no occasion for such an event again as there will be no money left in the safe under any circumstances, and it will be left unlocked so that further damage cannot be done.
SENTENCE ON XENIAN MUST STAND SAYS COURT
 The Ohio Supreme Court has affirmed contempt citations against witnesses before the State Utility Commission, and as a result jail sentences of Harry E. Mouser, Xenia; Charles Rogers, Lebanon, and Carl Moore, Harveysburg, will stand. They had refused to answer questions asked by the commission, claiming constitutional privilege. They were asked whether they were operating their trucks as a trucking company. The sentence was passed by a Common Pleas Court in Columbus. Most all rights of a truck owner have been taken away from him in favor of the truck operating trust in Ohio.

Rain turned to sleet about nine o'clock and the roads were slippery. When near Springfield their machine skidded into a ditch. A wrecker was sent for but it had the same experience and another was called. As a result they did not arrive home until four-thirty, Wednesday morning. No damage was done to the machine and neither were injured.

The girls are working hard on the tenderfoot test in order to become registered scouts. Each girl is required to be able to pass at least two new things on the test they are working on or pay the sum of one penny to the treasury. ## Council Considers Poor Relief Work

Village council in regular session had under consideration Monday night at the regular monthly meeting, the problem of poor relief. Chairman B. E. McFarland of the poor relief committee made his report as to present conditions and what we can expect. At present demands for relief are greater than village funds will permit. A request has been made for aid on a hospital operation but the village has no funds for this purpose and according to recent state examiner, the law does not provide for such. Aid will be given needy school children under the plan adopted last year. In view of the fact that village officials have no idea what funds will be received yet under the new tax law, makes it uncertain as to what extent council can give aid.
